This research guide is designed for individual use by students studying QCAA Ancient History 2019 v1.2 syllabus.

Please note, due to licensing arrangements, State Library's subscription databases and eBooks are for private research and study purposes only. They may not be used as teaching resources in classroom environments in schools or other educational institutions and students must not be required to access specific databases or eBooks as part of the curriculum.

Teachers can advise students on State Library's resources and encourage their use to help with their studies and research. Students are encouraged to access State Library's resources at school, but not during class time.

Teachers are most welcome to advise students what is available via State Library, and to encourage students to make use of eBooks and databases to help with their studies. It is permissible for a teacher to demonstrate the use of State Library's catalogue, and to point out how various online material can be accessed.

It is also permissible for students to access State Library's online resources at school – but this must not be during class time. An example of permitted use might be where students have a spare period when they work on assignments or homework, and they are accessing databases as private members of State Library. Information about joining State Library is here.

Please also note that State Library has digitised a range of material such as diaries, and out of copyright publications held in our collections. There are no restrictions on the use of this material as part of a teaching program – and no requirement to be a member of the library to use this material. They are easily findable searching our catalogue using the "SLQ digitised collections" option in the dropdown menu.

For reference entries:

Oxford Reference spans 25 different subject areas, bringing together 2 million digitized entries across Oxford University Press's dictionaries, companions and encyclopedias.

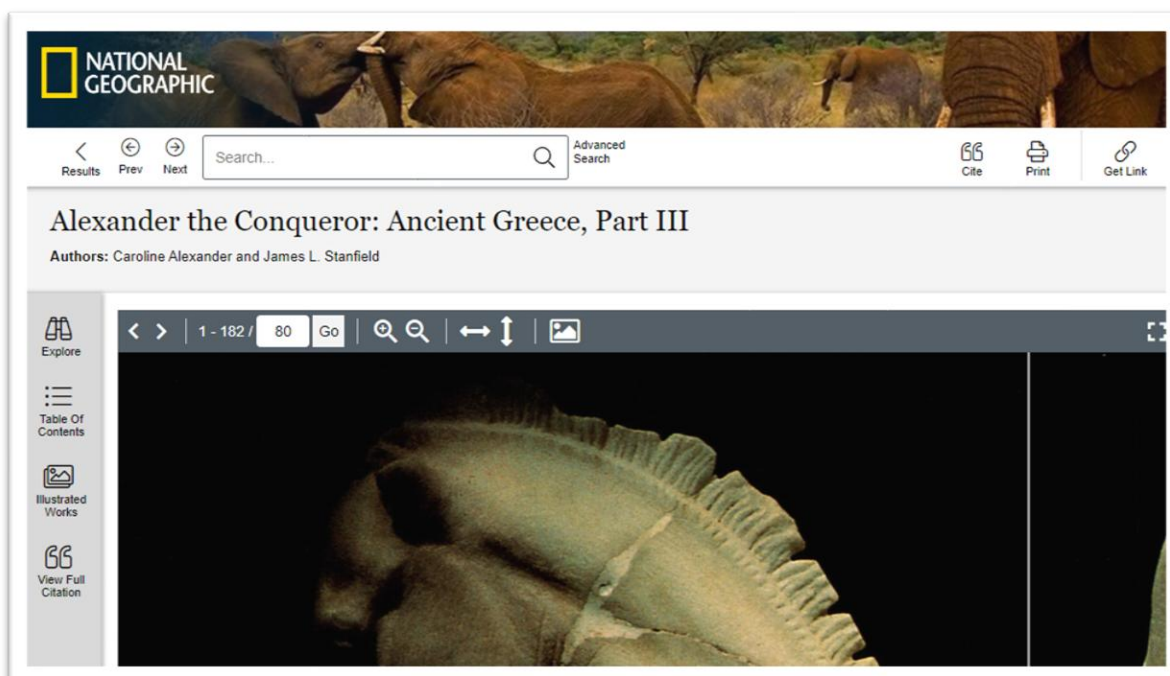

The screenshot shows the Oxford Reference website interface. At the top is the 'Oxford Reference' logo and a search bar. Below the logo are navigation tabs for 'Subject' and 'Reference Type', and user account links for 'My Content (1)' and 'My Searches (1)'. The main content area features a book cover for 'Who's Who in the Classical World' edited by Simon Hornblower and Tony Spawforth. The cover includes the Oxford logo and the text 'The world's most trusted reference books'. To the right of the cover is a detailed description of the book, its editors, and bibliographic information. The description states: 'Focusing exclusively on real people, this is a dictionary of ancient biography, covering Greek and Roman history and politics, literature, philosophy, science, and art. Shorter entries provide lucid factual accounts, while the longer entries are short essays covering major historical and cultural themes in antiquity, centred round individuals as varied as Herodotus, Socrates, Plato, Alexander the Great, and Augustus.' The bibliographic information includes: Publisher: Oxford University Press; Print ISBN-13: 9780192801074; Current Online Version: 2003; eISBN: 9780191727894; Print Publication Date: 2003; Published online: 2003; DOI: 10.1093/acref/9780192801074.001.0001. On the far right, there are biographical notes for the editors: Simon Hornblower, editor, a Senior Research Fellow in Classical Studies at All Souls College, Oxford; and Tony Spawforth, editor, Professor of Ancient History at the University of Newcastle, UK.
