Stay tuned for a weekend update

This morning the Chief Health Officer advised that a decision will be made on the weekend about whether the lockdown will lift or extend, and the restrictions that will follow.

We will send an SMS broadcast and email update to all staff on Sunday once we have confirmed the advice about our reopening and work arrangements for next week. We will also share the information on the staff updates page — remember this page is accessible from any browser (and you do not need to use RD Web).

Exposure sites and quarantining

Please continue to check the active contact tracing alerts every day and follow Queensland Health advice if you were in the any of the locations at the relevant times. Refer to my email from this morning for further information about the GOMA exposure on Tuesday 27 July.

If you are under advice to quarantine, please email your People Leader and the People and Culture mailbox immediately and do not come to the workplace. If your advice from Queensland Health changes, please keep your People Leader and People and Culture informed.

Got symptoms? Get tested

The Chief Health Officer urged people to continue getting tested if they have any symptoms.

If you are going for a COVID-19 test, please email your People Leader and the People and Culture mailbox immediately and do not come to the workplace while you are awaiting test results. Notify your People Leader and People and Culture as soon as you receive your result.

Thank you everyone for your hard work this week. I hope you all get the chance to enjoy a well-deserved rest this weekend.

Take care,
Vicki
