The COVID-19 staff updates page is your key source of information and the place to start if you have questions. The page includes information about working from home, accessing the building (including risk assessments), and what's happening onsite. You might also like to search our COVID-Safe Site Plan for further details about how we are managing our COVID-19 response.

Queensland Health audit

Yesterday we had to provide a list of all staff and clients who were onsite on Saturday 11 July as part of a trial Queensland Health audit. This was a good opportunity to test our COVID-Safe processes and systems, and highlighted how important it is that all staff carefully adhere to the requirements for documentation and safety.

Reminder: free parking ends Friday

Free parking for staff in the State Library carpark will conclude on Friday 17 July.

Now screening

Protective screens have been installed at information desks throughout the building thanks to a collaborative effort between Applied Creativity and front of house teams. Together they created customised screens for each space. Don't they look great! (see attached image)
