AGILE WEEK – GREEN TEAM

Returning to the office

The Recovery Working Group is busy working through the arrangements involved with transitioning back to the office. As part of the return, we'll provide support to all staff and ensure you have clarity around your responsibilities in the new normal.

John Oxley Library reopening

All is progressing well for the John Oxley Library reopening on Monday 13 July. Consultation has been undertaken with Visitor & Information Services and Access Services staff who will be providing services. Visitor numbers will be restricted, and extra hygiene and distancing measures will be in place.

Cultural Centre slowly awakening

Our Cultural Centre colleagues are also starting to make their way back to the precinct. Queensland Museum and Queensland Art Gallery are now open to a limited number of visitors daily using a timed entry ticket system.

Thank you for your feedback

Thank you to the 167 staff who took time to share their thoughts in the recent Wellness Survey. The Executive Team will take your responses into consideration as we continue planning for the coming months.
