Copyright information for teachers

This research guide is designed for individual use by students.

Please note, due to licensing arrangements, State Library's subscription databases and eBooks are for private research and study purposes only. They may not be used as teaching resources in classroom environments in schools or other educational institutions and students must not be required to access specific databases or eBooks as part of the curriculum.

Teachers can advise students on State Library's resources and encourage their use to help with their studies and research. Students are encouraged to access State Library's resources at school, but not during class time.

Teachers are most welcome to advise students what is available via State Library, and to encourage students to make use of eBooks and databases to help with their studies. It is permissible for a teacher to demonstrate the use of State Library's catalogue, and to point out how various online material can be accessed.

It is also permissible for students to access State Library's online resources at school – but this must not be during class time. An example of permitted use might be where students have a spare period when they work on assignments or homework, and they are accessing databases as private members of State Library. Information about joining State Library is here.

Please also note that State Library has digitised a range of material such as diaries, and out of copyright publications held in our collections. There are no restrictions on the use of this material as part of a teaching program – and no requirement to be a member of the library to use this material. They are easily findable searching our catalogue using the "SLQ digitised collections" option in the dropdown menu.

For easy reference

Oxford Reference spans 25 different subject areas, bringing together 2 million digitised entries across Oxford University Press's dictionaries, companions, and encyclopedias.

The screenshot shows the Oxford Reference website interface. At the top is the 'Oxford Reference' logo and a search bar. Below the logo is a navigation bar with 'Subject' and 'Reference Type' dropdowns, and 'My Content (1)' and 'My Searches (2)' links. The main content area features a book cover for 'Oxford Dictionary of Environment & Conservation' (Third Edition) by Chris Park and Michael Allaby. To the right of the cover, the title 'A Dictionary of Environment and Conservation (3 ed.)' is displayed, followed by the authors' names and a note about the previous edition. Below this, it states 'Over 10,000 entries' and provides a brief description of the dictionary's scope. On the far right, there is a biographical note about the authors, Chris Park and Michael Allaby, highlighting their expertise in environmental science and their previous works.

The Britannica Library has articles, images and more, with a selection of resources especially for teenagers.

For academic and scholarly information

ProQuest Central brings together 47 databases across 175 subject areas, providing easy intuitive access to an incredibly broad and comprehensive range of content. It is a valuable resource for researchers, students, and teachers at all levels.

JSTOR provides access to more than 12 million scholarly journal articles, eBooks, and primary sources.

APA-FT-Australian Public Affairs Full Text database brings together over 550 journals covering Australia's political, economic, and social affairs.

Newspapers

NewsBank provides a comprehensive collection of reliable news sources featuring over 8,000 titles from 200 countries covering a combination of global, regional, and local news from Queensland. The searchable archive features news articles back to the 1980s.

The SMH archives contains 820,000 pages in almost 13,000 issues of The Sydney Morning Herald and The Sun-Herald, spanning 1955 to 1995.

The Sydney Morning Herald and The Age Library Edition is a searchable archive of every page, article, photo, table, advertisement and cartoon published in the printed editions since 2006.
